

2019-20 Creative Industries Sector Immediate Response and Resilience Program

Channel NT Virtual Territory Grant Recipients

Applicant	Project Title	Artform	Region	Funding
Roy Kellaway / Stuart Kellaway	Supporting the production of two film clips by Yirna Yunupingu's band King Stingray.	Music	East Arnhem	$10 000
Centralia Australian Singing Incorporated	Establishing a digital platform for Desert Song Festival 2020.	Interactive arts content	Central	$10 000
William Tinapple	The 'Show Us What You've Got - NT Artists Storytelling' project aims to showcase NT artists and their practices through a series of short personal video profiles, featuring local creatives in their studios, workspaces or homes.	Other performing arts	Darwin	$10 000
Frances Grant	'Profiling Women and Weaving across the NT' will empower the women artists from remote Indigenous communities across the NT, showcasing the development and creation of new artworks - from harvesting, to dying, to weaving, to artwork.	Visual arts and crafts	Top End	$9 951
Incite Arts Incorporated	'Virtual Incite Arts' will offer a virtual presentation of Incite Art's unique community of Alice Springs artists, art workers and collaborating groups, showcasing their talents on more far reaching online platforms otherwise not possible, and to greater audiences than the original program delivery mode.	Interactive arts content	Central	$10 000
Foldback Magazine	'The Foldback BBQ Sessions' will feature six Territory music acts over three live stream events. Two local comedians will host individual events, with two events to be produced in Darwin and one in Yirrkala.	Music	Top End and East Arnhem	$10 000
Happy Yess Community Arts Incorporated	'The Secret Garden Songwriters Series' will be the first of the Happy Yess online produced events. Local singer/songwriter Bella Maree will host the eight-part live-streamed and recorded performance series.	Music	Darwin	$9 800

2019-20 Creative Industries Sector Immediate Response and Resilience Program

Applicant	Project Title	Artform	Region	Funding
Emma Louise Lupin	'Country of Colours - foraging for Inks and Prints' will document Emma Louise Lupin's artistic process and practice, involving foraging for plants to make beautiful inks and prints.	Visual arts and crafts	Darwin	$5 670
Northern Centre for Contemporary Art	'NCCA Virtual Gallery'; the creation of a virtual gallery using the current exhibition print. There will be interactive elements, written pieces about the work and the artists, as well as videos of NT artists discussing their work.	Interactive arts content	Darwin	$7 800